FINGER STYLEDE AFRICAN CARPETS

The Mescla Collection is a mix of traditional African textiles tailored by hand with a new knotting technique.

Known as capulanas, these colourful textiles, play a significant role in the culture of Mozambique as they are worn by women as skirts or to carry their children.

Every design utilizes diverse capulanas to produce a unique piece of work handmade by Mozambican women.

The meticulous woven structure and the centuries-old fabrics assure a strong and lasting creation.

Together with DANIDA and The Foundation for Community Development (FDC), local women learn the necessary professional skills that enable them to provide for themselves and their families.

The Mescla Collection project provides genuine support to women struggling with HIV and AIDS and also offers support to caregivers of orphaned children.

By purchasing this product you are empowering these local communities in their widespread battle against HIV/AIDS and social deprivation.

The collection consists of a number of standard sizes and a broad selection of colours and patterns.

We hope you enjoy it!!!
